

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to take the time to send you this concern on the changes suggested concerning low power FM stations. I currently listen to a station called K-Love in my local community. This station has provided great inspiration to me at times when I have struggled. It continues to provide the kind of quality music and information to my family now. I do not have to worry about something being said on this station that might be offensive or uncalled for. It is a family station and that is what I choose to listen to. If you were to allow a LPFM station to replace my K-Love station I would not be able to have that choice. I would have to monitor my family's music more and in this day and age that is more and more difficult. I believe the service that K-Love provides is a vital service to our community. It is a positive and encouraging station, and you do not have all the commercial interruptions of most stations. Please take time to reconsider the changes suggested concerning LPFM stations, and you will see that we all need stations like K-Love in our local communities. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Kari Price
